

DO YOU NEED SUPPORT WITH FOOD RECOVERY TRANSPORTATION AND LOGISTICS?

TOGETHER WE FEED
DELIVERING FOOD.
BUILDING COMMUNITY.
EMPOWERED BY PARATRANSIT

Paratransit, in collaboration with the Capital Food Access Alliance, is stewarding a shared fleet pilot program to assist food recovery organizations in meeting their transportation demands.

Contact Paratransit today to explore if participating in this pilot would be a good fit for your organization!

WHAT

What participating organizations receive

- Access to shared refrigerated vehicles
- Coordinated routing and scheduling support
- Reduced transportation and operating costs

WHO

Who should get involved

- Nonprofits and community-based organizations
- Food recovery or distribution programs
- Organizations serving food-insecure populations

WHY

Why this matters

- Increase access to nutritious food across the region
- Reduce waste and improve efficiency
- Strengthen coordination between service providers
- Expand reach to underserved communities

GET INVOLVED

Contact us to learn how your organization can participate.

Contact Alicia Garcia at:

916-429-2009

AGARCIA@PARATRANSIT.ORG

HOW THE PROGRAM WORKS

What participating organizations contribute

- Volunteers and/or drivers to support partner or participating organizations operations
- Fuel costs associated with vehicle usage
- Pickup and delivery schedule logistics
- Participation in a shared system designed to maximize efficiency

What you receive in return

- Access to a shared fleet of refrigerated cargo vans
- No vehicle purchasing costs or associated maintenance costs
- Coordinated routing and scheduling support
- Access to a shared pool of resources and distribution model

ABOUT THE FLEET

Participating organizations gain access to a shared fleet of refrigerated cargo vans designed specifically for food recovery and distribution. These vehicles are equipped to safely transport perishable goods, helping ensure food reaches communities fresh and ready to serve.

This shared model allows organizations to expand their reach without the burden of purchasing, maintaining, or managing vehicles independently.

LET'S BUILD A MORE CONNECTED FOOD RECOVERY NETWORK

Paratransit and the Capital Food Access Alliance are working together to strengthen how food moves across our region. If your organization is ready to expand its impact, we are ready to partner with you.